

An aerial photograph of a rural landscape. At the top, a multi-lane highway runs horizontally. Below the highway, a large rectangular area of brown, tilled soil is outlined with a thick red border. A blue line, representing a water main, runs horizontally across the top of the red-outlined area, starting from the left edge of the image and extending to the right edge. To the right of the red-outlined area, there are several baseball fields with yellow sand bases and green grass. In the bottom right corner, there is a white rectangular box containing text and a blue line segment.
