FARMABLE ACRES
151.40

This efficiently configured tract is currently farmed to vegetable and berry crops. It has one on-site reservoir covering about 1.3 acres and also includes a filter station. The tract's south border abuts the community of Mecca and it benefits from High Density Residential zoning (R-7) and General Plan designation. The other three sides are adjacent to citrus groves and table grape vineyards.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Productive vegetable and berry farm
- Surrounded on three sides by vineyard and citrus farms
- Future optionality provided by high density R-7 zoning and general plan

COACHELLA VALLEY OVERVIEW

Southern California's Coachella Valley is located in southern central Riverside County to the north of the Salton Sea and southeast of Palm Springs. Riverside County produces over $1 billion in agricultural commodity value annually and Coachella Valley typically represents about half of that value despite only accounting for about one third of the county's acreage; this shows that the Valley produces many of the county's most valuable crops. Often considered a smaller version of California's Central Valley, the Coachella Valley has about 66,000 acres in production and total gross agricultural production value of over $590 million. Given its excellent climate and ample water from the Colorado River, the Valley produces a wide array of fruit and vegetable products with early market timing as summarized in the table to the right.

Coachella Valley Water

The Coachella Valley Water District (CVWD) serves the majority of the Valley's wide array of both permanent plantings and row crops. CVWD water is delivered from the Colorado River via the 123 mile Coachella Canal, a branch of the All-American Canal. The district has an underground delivery system with approximately 500 miles of piping. Reportedly over 60% of CVWD farms use drip or other micro-irrigation, which conserves water, allows in-line fertilizer, and increases yields.
